His Last Walk

blessthefall

Not many know how much you did, when you walked on broken feet to save us, this is your last walk, but its not the end, and with faith in hand, your not the only one, so c'mon c'mon, your not the only one, let's help get this point across, what are you waiting for? Let's get this point across while we still have the time, lets get it across, lets get this point across and live eternal life, lets get it across
