Barenaked Ladies

Ever since we said our good-byes The onion rings, the phone makes me cry Something isn't right Like the Deep Blue without the Great WhiteIn the morning, open your eyes The waterfalls, the fireflies You're an Abacus And my heart was counting on usYour heart's got a heavy load There's still a long way to go Keep your eyes on the roadCrescent moon sings me to sleep The birches bark, the willows weep But I lie awake I'm adrift without a snowflakeYour heart's got a heavy load There's still a long way to go Keep your eyes on the roadYour heart's got a heavy load There's still a long way to go Keep your eyes on the road
