High Above

Lucy Schwartz

Sitting watching the waves roll back and forth
And everything is beautiful, for a moment
Sitting watching the clouds as they touch my nose
And everythings unnatural, for a momentHigh above,
Too far away to hear me crying
If I forget this love
I dont have to think of why Im dyingLying down watching T.V. I get so numb
From all those stupid shows that just seem to wear me down
Listening to the droning beats of the radio
My mind has drifted somewhere else, I dont even knowHigh above,
Too far away to hear me crying
If I forget this love
I dont have to think of why Im dyingYou know Im dying too
You know Im dying tooYou see I made a chain reaction, yeah
Of multiple distractions
You see I made a chain reaction, yeahHigh above,
Too far away to hear me crying
If I forget this love
I dont have to think of why Im dying
