

Severance

Necronoclast

Severance
The birds of leaving call to us
 Yet here we stand
 Endowed with the fear of flight
 Overland
The winds of change consume the land
 While we remain
 In the shadow of summers now past
 When all the leaves
 Have fallen and turned to dust

Will we remain
 Entrenched within our ways?
 Indifference
The plague that moves throughout this land
 Omen signs
 In the shapes of things to come
Tomorrow's child is the only child
 Tomorrow's child is the only child
