

Casting Such a Thin Shadow

Underoath

Speak up
My ears are growing weary
Ill sing this to the end
And watch the waves crash over me
Speak up
My ears are growing weary
Ill sing this to the end
And watch the waves crash over me
Not too much to overcome
With enough time to turn it all around
In a picture perfect scenery
Ive become a stick figure illustration
My eyes roll back
And focus on whats ahead
I can still stand if you lend
The hand to brace me
