

The Fire Down Below

Corey Cyr

Rolling down the river, skating for the shore.
God's tears start falling, pouring off Heaven's door.
He heard his mother's fallen, religion gave the fatal blow.
The rain from above and the fire down below. The sun rises in the east and it sets in the west.
Between the ones with least the silence is the best.
The burning ember coals, they melt away the snow.
The rain from above and the fire down below. I'll kiss you all goodbye along with hopes and dreams.
Water falling harder now pushing me downstream.
With everyone I love, and nowhere else to go.
The rain from above and the fire down below. While all of the white angels are playing their golden harps,
You sit on the sidelines with a heavy feeling heart.
Why don't you take it easy while running down your road.
Watch the rain from above, avoid the fire down below.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>