

We'll Be Okay

Asking Alexandria

Your voice is calling my name
Your voice is calling my name
Again and again! The web you wove around me was only the beginning
And every star I counted, as cold as your embrace
I've listened, I've questioned
Every word you choked on
The secret, the answer
I'm just a slave to all your sins
If I've been so stupid
So blind, so void, so empty
I hope you forgive me
I'm just an echo in your head
You made my life a fucking misery
Remember when you tied me down
Yeah, I sank in the uncertainty
I prayed for you to blindfold me
Fuck
I'm just so scared of what I'll see Your voice is calling my name
My soul is caught up in flames
I feel I'm losing control
I'm here, I'm yours to atone
Again and again! Fuck, oh no, god
Mesmerized by your motion
But my memories of you
Forever standing still Your voice is calling my name
My soul is caught up in flames
I feel I'm losing control
I'm here, I'm yours to atone
Again and again! I'll spill the ink on the empty page
I feel this fever taking over me
Help me, cause I can't live this way
Tell me why the memories won't fade away But we'll be okay
We'll be just fine
I never took the time to say sorry
But all I ever needed was you
