

Little Miracles (happen Every Day)

Luther Vandross

One thing I would love to do is talk to someone wish I knew who.
Sometimes the people who know the least say the most.
Makes you wonder who you can trust, what's gonna happen

First thing I know, God is love.
The next thing would be; He loves me.
Sometimes I'm tired of waiting for a thing or someone.
Then I stop and see what He's done and I know ev'rything will come.

Maybe today; anything can change, nothing stays the same.
Maybe today; what's tomorrow for, no one knows for sure.
Through it all, come what may.
Little miracles happen ev'ryday.

And so there you go, strangely enough.
Alone even though, addicted to love.
You're in and out so quickly that it gives you a start.
You're waiting for a message or a word but you haven't heard from your heart.

Maybe today; things can change, nothing stays the same.
Maybe today; is for the love we need, I really believe.
Through it all, come what may.
Little miracles happen ev'ryday.

What is a miracle?
Love is a miracle.
Every time that you care, a miracle; it happens somewhere.
So many miracles, even small little miracles.
Just take one look about, it's not hard to figure out.
'Cause it might be today, anything can change nothing stays the same.
Maybe today, what's tomorrow for, no one know for sure.
Through it all, come what may.
Little miracles happen ev'ry day.
Little miracles happen ev'ry day.
Little miracles happen ev'ry day.
