All of This

Jann Arden

Every wicked thing I've ever done
Every single sin, I've stumbled on Every blackened piece of bitterness
Mended with a shard of tendernessAll of this, was wonderful and worth the heartache
All of this, was beautiful and full of light
All of this, was everything I ever hoped for
All of this, was lifeEvery time I drank myself to God
Every time I fell and got back up
Every lie that twisted back my tongue
Every time I lost and never wonAll of this, was wonderful and worth the heartache
All of this, was beautiful and full of light
All of this, was everything I ever hoped for
All of this, was lifeEverything must change and so it does Everything that's good inside of us
Every fading hope will find its way
Every dying wish will see the light of dayAll of this, was wonderful and worth the heartache
All of this, was beautiful and full of light
All of this, was everything I ever hoped for
All of this, was life
