

I Never Let You Know

Andy Ferguson

I like the way you make me feel in the sunlight the way you turn your head , your eyes glow bright, well i know im just falling in loveI cant stop smiling as i do, watching you do little goofy things too and i try to tell you funny stories cuz i want you to like me too it seems to be the weather's getting a little warmer, when the rain is falling ill just hold you a little closer as we jump the puddles i could carry you over, walking home in wet shoes, i top you with your broken umbrella as we are walking past we smell the panadarÃ-a they are cooking us up a sweet afternoon.I never thought i would have to catch my breath, and normally i can talk fine to the rest, but im tripping over words with you, and i hand you my guitar as you try to play me songs from your heart i just lay back, and im on adventures with you.we'll just talk a little longer if its alright, i don't want this to be just another night and i dont feel like sayingg goodbye just yet. im so surprised at how much we share in common, and the kindness you show, i love your kinda loving, and how many times you say exactly whats on my mind.Tell me about your dreams and what you wanna do, ill do my best to help you if you want me to. i wanna be right there, in your life.
Maybe one of these times we'll go dancing under moonlight, and the star shine is all we need to fall in love.I like the way you make me feel in the sunlight,
the way you turn your head your eyes glow bright.
well i know im just falling in love, i know im just falling in love.
