Noggin Toboggan

My strength, my strength fadesMy strength fades away

Slowly with the setting sun

The night brought

Its darkness and its stormsAnd the floods that came

Reflected a dull moon

Violent winds raged

Beneath the stars that didn't shineEmptied

Of myself

I fell

To the groundSlowly through the destructionCame a single quiet

Voice

And the breath of His words

ConsumedThe night and brought strength I have never

Felt on my ownAnd He held me up

Until I could walk again

And promised

To stay by my side forever
