This Will Never End

Blind Guardian

Once upon a time
No more words to say
Find me in the circle
Find me in the endI am the soul collector
Dressed in ebony
There are no rules
But only oneThere's someone young sister
Caught at the border
Let's get in contact
He's either yours or mineI have thought
That this will never end
And things go on
But nothing will lastOnly the fool in me believes
There is sense in it
In distant shores of green
It's over nowFar out in space, I ride on
Time is chasing us all
It's not quite how it seems
It's just a dreamI don't believe
In a soul or in God
It's just twisted
Further you do not understandEach single breath inspires
You come to and end, expireRise up my sister
Let's cross the border
Reveal the secret
One more soul to burnI have thought
That this will never end
And things go on
But nothing will lastOnly the fool in me believes
There is sense in it
It's over nowYou've finally approached
Still there's something left to do
Draw me and prove
Your souls not ripe yetPrepare yourself then wait for me
Expect the day when I come by
You're released now
For a while you may feel resurrection
Open your eyesThe vision's bleak

And its color's black
How far beyond there's a
Starving dying sunI have thought that this will never end
Things go on but nothing will last
Only the fool in me believes there is sense in it
In distant shores of green it's over now
