Those Days

Freddy Mullins

Lifting up stones and broken bones
Looking for something of our own
Recklessly, I fall down
While you spin all aroundCarving out a heart at the park
Running up the slide with you by my side
Carelessly, you fall down
As we laugh but make no soundAnd oh those days do pass
Just like the setting sun
But oh those moments are held
Within oneWalking home at night all alone
Losing the time with all of our minds
Purposely, we fall down
With the stars all around
