

Seekers Who Are Lovers (Live at the White Room)

Cocteau Twins

Brush by gracefully
A love as big as a risk
Fills you up
And you can't look on The breath of god in my mouth
A love you can taste
God get some paste
He and I, breath to breath Clothed in saliva
Healing through your arm
I can't stop hungering for otherness.
I forgot the use My head fall out the sky
And crashed into my palms
Jesus God valentine
Love On the tip of it
The old rivers lack of other sweet scents
So sweet
You are a woman just as you are a man Creeping on the Gas
Is a magic love, like,
Like a Flights, clouded peak
I was choking on the blood Whose camouflages, lack of soul
Whose misty fire, mutes soul
Kneeling by the harm
Which is promising the way His poor essence, under the truth love and heart polish itself
I slid my heels but slowly ran
So send Lucifer into hell

Songwriters

FRASER, ELIZABETH / GUTHRIE, ROBIN / RAYMONDE, SIMON Published by

Lyrics © Sony/ATV Music Publishing LLC, Universal Music Publishing Group Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>