

Sinkership

Sin Fang Bous

(Now that you've gone the doves in the air knock down) You're the one why I'm vised into the sun

You're the only one

You're the one I'm a sinking ship coming down Take the sun apart and put it back together

Down the mount so you can forget her I'm coming down, I see eyes in the mirror

An old rhino sweeps in rolled up in flames It's hard to sing when your pain bleeds

Nothing more will ever make me feel

Like a plastic bag full of sick again An armed sissy, an otter with brains...

But without a heart (Some one will carry on) (Now that we are appeased) I need to forget some words I said yesterday

Change them away from memories

And just change them all again Found you back here again

You say the same things

But we can't be friends

As long as you're unsung out of the blame
