On Ice

Chris Thile

Just for a moment, the moment I met her
I lost my breath but my lips whispered, she is the one
Forgot who I was and who I was fooling
Didnt remember she could be my first cue to runWe moved so fast
Never thought twice
Mind came at last
Put us on iceWe stayed in touch but the touch I was wanting from her
Came from girls that scared me too little to love
So all of the thoughts I thought I might tell her
Turned into songs that until now shes never heard ofI had been taught
Love is a vice
Took all these thoughts
And I put them on iceThe vice bends and ice tends to melt
One night she asked me how I felt
The next day I woke up lying to myself
I feel fine, I feel fine, I feel fineThank God, youre here, I need you to hear this
So sick of my shit, I promise, Im through tempting fate
I know Im in love now, you are what love is to me
Please tell me this isnt too little too lateOh, lets move fast
Making up would be nice
Im so sorry, I put these things on ice
I would like to help you dance right
