Pretty Things

Maren Ord

I have developed beauty marks over the years
I notice them when I'm with you
A deeper thing that surfaces the more I know myself
The more I understand
The more I try

Pretty things are what we like to be
I would like to surrender to beauty

I am a fool
The kind that everybody wants to be
'Cause I have you

I am a fool
I've fallen fast and hard because of you
You make me feel
So beautiful

The surface of a face is such a surface thing to view
The years of life are not enough
It doesn't show the inner part of someone who can laugh

The more I know myself
The more I cry

Pretty things are what we want to be
I would like to surrender to beauty

I am a fool
The kind that everybody wants to be
'Cause I have you

I am a fool
I've fallen fast and hard because of you
You make me feel
So beautiful

Pretty things are what we try to be
I would like to surrender to beauty

I am a fool
The kind that evreybody wants to be
'Cause I have you

I am a fool
I've fallen fast and hard because of you
You make me feel
So beautiful
