

My Best Friend (Feat. Ludacris & The Roots)

Tyrese

[Intro: Tyrese]

I'm a do everything in my strength to keep you near, let's go All the Many Days You were on my mind (Here in My Life, Just You & I)

Visions of me with you, all the time

I do whatever put's the smile on my baby's face (Here in My Life, Just You & I)

My best friend and you can never be replaced [Verse 1: Black Thought]

I'm on that homicide, suicide, drama like Islamabad

Under God, going overboard like the Amistad

Ringin' bells, it was 2012 back in '95

I made it out alive, now finally I've arrived

But still threw back to all my other blue black

People that's sticking to it like, mice to a glue trap

My work speak for itself so I don't interrupt

I am an expert, this is no beginners luck

If you denying the truth, then I don't give a fuck

Otherwise get your hands and your antennas up

As we go into our initial decent, I'm alive, but only fifty percent

I'm praying God give me the strength [Hook: Main Event West]

It's like somebody turned on the light

It's like somebody started a fire, and I

Feel so alive... Finally I've realized that

I don't have to tell myself twice, I know

That you changed my whole life and if

I know there's one thing that's the truth

I know I'd be lost if I lost you [Hook: Tyrese]

(Here in My Life, Just You & I)

What am I gonna do?

(Here in My Life, Just You & I)

My Best Friend, You can never be replaced [Verse 2: Ludacris]

They say tomorrow's not promised today

But today I promise If we don't make our own way

Somebody'll take it from us

Snatch it like rats to cheese

So, lord help me please cause I rather die

On my feet than to live on my knees

Living like I'm bulletproof

Cocking the Glock and aim and shoot

My future's ever clear a 180 proof

So I open the bottle then swallow my pride

And drink the pain away
I take shots and just lay up then fade away
Dreaming of better days dreaming of better pay
But we got our work cut out for us so we better pray
Pray to uphold the week, not for eternal sleep
But if I die I pray the lord my soul to keep[Hook: Main Event West]
It's like somebody turned on the light
It's like somebody started a fire, and I
Feel so alive... Finally I've realized that
I don't have to tell myself twice, I know
That you changed my whole life and if
I know there's one thing that's the truth
I know I'd be lost if I lost you(Tyrese - Outro)
(Here in My Life, Just You & I)
(Here in My Life, Just You & I)
You can never be replaced
