Forever Shamed

Godsmack

Advisory - the following lyrics contain explicit language:

When will it ever end and when will my life begin?No sweat, no regrets run down my back
A fine line just right before I crack
Oh man, to see me and then wave your finger up in my face
Believing in what you say and promising another dayWill it ever end, when will my life begin?
All this built up pain forever plaguing me
It's the last time, it's my lifeline
It's the last time that I'll be forever shamedNo breath and disrespecting all my time
Dividing and speaking out of line
Tell me the reason, oh, everybody needs to feel your pain
So draw the line back to me and save me from insanityWill it ever end, when will my life begin?
All this built up pain forever plaguing me
It's the last time, it's my lifeline
It's the last time that I'll be forever shamedWhen will it ever end, when will my life begin?
All this built up pain forever plaguing me
It's the last time, it's my lifeline
It's the last time that I'll be forever shamedWill it ever end, when will my life begin?
All this built up pain forever plaguing me
It's the last time, it's my lifeline
It's the last time that I'll be forever shamedWhen will it ever end, when will my life begin?
All this built up pain forever plaguing me
It's the last time, it's my lifeline
It's the last time that I'll be forever shamedForever shamed, forever
