

When Withered Flowers Begin to Bloom

Ashes You Leave

I look upon the lightless sky
With drops of sadness from my mourning eye
I only heard the reckless waters roar
Those ways could not bear me from the shore
When Withered Flowers Begin To Bloom
She loved to dwell in darkness and dismay
Deeming herself predestined to do
When withered flowers begin to bloom
I want to remain unseen in the shadow of her mind
