Breakfast In Bed

Deep Purple

Woke up this morning, the rain coming down
Washing the sin from the streets
Sometimes I feel like I'm losing ground
Just tryin' to make ends meetWell, I work every day to sweat out my dreams
Won't you show me that you understand
But it's only my life, whatever that means
But you've got it all in your handsWell, I need someone to pull me through
Won't you take the pain from my head
Give me all your loving, the way you always do
Baby, give me breakfast in bedI feel like the good days are numbered
And my nights are getting too long
My hopes and my fears take their toll on the years
And my will power's almost goneWell, it's a time full of trouble a time of desperate need
Sometimes life don't make any sense
Fighting the anger, jealousy and greed
One day I'll look back and wonder where it all wentWell, I need someone to pull me through Won't you take the pain from my head, babe
Give me all your loving, the way you always do
Gonna give me breakfast in bedDon't take much to please me
I'm just a simple man
And now, baby, please believe meI gotta tell you
Don't take much tender touch
So baby, do the best that you can
Do the best you canNow, I need someone to pull me through Won't you take this pain from my head
Give me all your loving, the way you always do
Give me breakfast in bedI need someone to pull me through
Won't you take the pain from my head
Give me all your loving, the way you always do
Baby, gonna give me breakfast in bedDon't take much to please me
I don't let somebody say, huh
[Incomprehensible][Incomprehensible]
Give me all your loving, the way you always do
Honey give me breakfast in bed
Baby alright
