The Recipe

I5

I don't like playing games
I don't get off that way
My heart is ready to tell it like it isI need somebody real
Someone who makes me feel
Like he would sail 'cross the ocean for one kissWinning my love is easy enough
But you better listen upHere is the recipe
For bringing you to me
Start with devotion
And honesty and trustThrow in some tenderness
A gentle soul caress
Pour in some passion
And wrap it up with all of your loveI'll always do you right
I'll keep you warm at night
Take you to heaven and treat you like a kingBut I expect the same
Through sunshine, snow and rain
I've never settled for less then everythingSo if you dare to really care
If you wanna take, take me thereHere is the recipe
For bringing you to me
Start with devotion
And honesty and trustThrow in some tenderness
A gentle soul caress
Pour in some passion
And wrap it up with all of your loveSomething is there in the air
Loading the star dust in the dark
You hold the key to my dreams
Know the way to my heartHere is the recipe
Start with honesty
Throw in some tenderness
Don't wanna play with your heartHere is the recipe
For bringing you to me
Start with devotion
And honesty and trustThrow in some tenderness
A gentle soul caress
Pour in some passion
And wrap it up with all of your loveHere is the recipe
For bringing you to me
Start with devotion
And honesty and trustThrow in some tenderness
A gentle soul caress

Pour in some passion
And wrap it up with all of your love
