The Town And The City

Teenage Fanclub

Feels good to be here again In the cool air and the driving rain In the first light that morning brings High five to future thingsChance is waiting Just outside the door Arrange the space 'Cos change is heading here for sureIf you can't see it right away You've got to listen, you've got to listen Don't just walk away Listen for what you're missing, this light feels alrightThe high rise in the setting sun Progress that has just begun The new life that tomorrow brings High five to future thingsMotion stopped the wheels From turning round Silence called but I've been tangled Up in soundIf you can't hear it right away You've got to listen, you've got to listen Don't just walk away Listen for what you're missing, this light feels alright
