

Ghost

Mat Kearney

You took the best of me, best of me I'll never know, I'm left with the rest of me, rest of me and I can't let go, I'm waiting for a train that's not coming it's like a waterfall in my head, oh won't you tell me why i keep waiting up at night, leaving on the lights like i never said goodbye, i hear you at the door footsteps on the floor, shouldn't i hear no more what hurts the most, is sleeping with your ghost oh oh, sleeping with your ghost oh oh oh oh i still feel you holding me, holding me all the want is gone i still hear you calling me, calling me but I don't belong how do you take the knife from your heart when every beat still hurts the same oh won't you tell me why, i keep waiting up at night leaving on the light, like you never said goodbye i hear you at the door, footsteps on the floor shouldn't i hear no more what hurts the most, is sleeping with your ghost oh oh oh, sleeping with your ghost oh oh oh oh when we had a baby girl i was scared to death and the doctor said darling "are you ready to push" drove home like we stole the sun those kind of memories don't fade don't run they stuck to the back of my mind yea you blowing in the trees at night i'm still sleeping on my own side yea they said you'd never be prepared for the worst ones you took your bow, they dropped the curtains there's no encore, just me on the floor waiting here for more oh won't you tell me why, i keep waiting up at night leaving on the lights, like you never said goodbye
i hear you at the door, footsteps on the floor
shouldn't i hear no more
what hurts the most is sleeping with your ghost oh oh oh, sleeping with your ghost
oh oh oh oh, sleeping with your ghost
oh oh oh oh, sleeping with your ghost oh oh oh oh x5

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>