Jupiter (Or Somewhere Out There)

Project Pitchfork

You feel me.
Feel with me.
You see me.
See with me.
Feel the waves and I'll be the wave.
Feel the waves and I'll be the wave.You are like the ocean, and I'm like the moonlight,
it seems,
I'm only reflecting on your surface,
But you know I reach your ground.
You're my ocean, you're my life.
Let me be within you.
You're my ocean, you're my life.
Let me be within you.Now the voices in the sky fall silent.
We're watching the sunset.
And the stars are now our gardens
in the coming night,
which will last far too long, far too long.While the blue clouds cover the orange sky,
the sweet taste of the air, slowly turns bitter.
The time of shadows has just begun.You are like the ocean, and I'm like the moonlight,
it seems,
I'm only reflecting on your surface,
But you know I reach your ground.The time of shadows has just begun.You are like the ocean, and I'm like the moonlight,
it seems,
I'm only reflecting on your surface,
But you know I reach your ground.
You're my ocean, you're my life.
Let me be within you.
You're my ocean, you're my life.
Let me be within you.
