

What's Really Good

Seaway

Are you surprised that he's not here?

I thought you said he was reliable.

I'm happy that you've come to know your place.

There's been way too many times where it seems you've lost your spine.

Again and again you're calling a friend when there's no one out there.

You say that I'm wrong. I know that I'm right.

You're running out of lifelines.

I can't catch a break.

This doesn't make sense.

This line will never take and I'm spent.

How can every single try spawn a thousand bullshit lies?

You'll never understand not knowing.

You're all knowing.

Here you are, here's your deathbed.

You'll never understand not knowing.

You've lost your spine and you've lost your mind.
