

This Should Be a Love Song

Jimmy Arnold

I only needed time to grieve,
It was so hard to let you go.
Now I can breathe and start to retrieve
some of my broken dreams
You walked away and left me holdingI fell so hard, why weren't we in the cards?
This will be my last broken heart,
No surprises, No false starts.
If we weren't mean't to be..
Can't speak for you, can't tell it by me.
I gave you all that I had left to give-
I have this life to live with no one by my side
No time left to cry.The road ahead is long, one day you'll be a memory
'til then I will have to be strong-
This should be a love songSince you're gone, I don't know how I will move on but I know that time will come and ease this pain
Time will come when I will try to love again
Nobody knows how long the road is or where it goes
I'll remember you every step of the way
No words left to say, on to brighter daysIf the road ahead is long,
You'll be one sweet memory,
Still lookin' for where I belong,
This should be a love song-
This should be our love song.I won't wear my heart upon my sleeve,
I just can't do it anymore.
You might find it harder to believe,
You're still the one that I adore.
I'm moving on reluctantly,
I spent my whole life looking for you.
Like a river runs into the sea,
I know this much is true..
This should be a love song
(This should be a love song)
This should be a love song
(This should be a love song)
This should be a love song
(This should be a love song)
This should be a love song
(This should be a love song)
(This should be a love song)
I can't wear my heart upon my sleeve,
I just can't do it anymore.

I really needed time to grieve,
it hurt so much to let you go-
Now I can breathe and start to retrieve
some of my broken dreams-
You walked away and left me holdin'. This should be a love song
(This should be a love song)
This should be a love song
(This should be a love song)
This should be a love song
(This should be a love song)
This should be a love song
(This should be a love song)
