

Lighting the Fuse

Vision

We still have hope that the world is going to change
And all the violence will somehow fade away
And I'm gonna bet that tomorrow is just like the rest
So here it goes once again, we are put to the test
Turn on the news, lighting the fuse
Watching the world just burn
We still have hope that the world will be a better place
Never to be judged by the color of your face
We know that you've heard this a thousand times before
But this is a struggle we can't ignore
Turn on the news, lighting the fuse
Watching the world just burn

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnyrics.com/>