

SeagullxEagle

Tall Tall Trees

I was a Seagull, you were an Eagle
We were together once in a while
You like the mountains, I love the ocean
I need the motion, you need the trees. When we're together, birds of a feather
I make you lazy, you keep me sharp
There's no escaping the love that's forsaken
Why must we fake them when we knew from the start! We heard the thunder, we saw the lightening
The night is frightening when there's not a star to see
You pull me closer, you drew me closer
I say my worries and you sing me off to sleep You flew me high above the mountaintop when my wings gave out
I can't recover from the wind and I fall toward the cold, hard ground
And though I can not see, your face will be my favorite memory (Cheerful Instrumentation) I was a seagull, you were an Eagle
We were together once in a while
