Troubled Heart

Kutless

A screaming man falls to his knees
His broken heart, inflicts the pain
He's withdrawn, no one knows his name
One mistake, now he's lost in shameAmidst the pain, you're not alone
Though you can't see through the haze
His eyes of love are staring down
And He fills your troubled heartYes it's true, that someone cares
Your perfect friend, never leaving you
Strength is gone and you're feeling cold
You will know the truth that He toldAmidst the pain, you're not alone
Though you can't see through the haze
His eyes of love are staring down
And He fills your troubled heartBy Your grace You repair
The broken pieces within
Somehow You take a man
And make something more out of himAmidst the pain, you're not alone
Though you can't see through the haze
His eyes of love are staring down
And He fills your troubled heartAmidst the pain, you're not alone
Though you can't see through the haze
His eyes of love are staring down
And He fills your troubled heart
(God fits)
