Land on Me

Bodyjar

I'm not one to see, not one to feel Not one to be a part And say that you won't be the same Of the way that you think things should be Set out your rules today How could I ever respect you When you push out this feeling I get Fuckin' meant to, land on me When I'm near you it wasn't meant to Not one to be a part Not one to say not one to think Of the way that you think things should be And say that you won't be the same Set out your rules today How could I ever respect you When you push out this feeling I get When I'm near you it wasn't meant to Fuckin' meant to, land on me Tell me will you land on me today Land on me in every single way Say what you mean Yeah Tell me Always say what you mean
