Black Joe Lewis

I know, I know, from the assembly line I know, I know, the three laws of my type

I was not built to lieI was not made to smile I ask my positron self why am I born apartevery night, every morning there's no reason for my eyes to glow every day we work alone inside the big domeI know, I know, all data and functions

I don't care what I am I know, I know, the power of the sun
I am the never manwhy do I dream of kites I ask my kindred spiritwhatever to serve my master anything to save my masterI know, I know, the same old daily grind
I know, I know, the passage of my time
