

Already Gone

Richard Swift

Where have you gone? No lights in the home
We gave it up as part, we made it a tomb
And so I'll take the ocean and you take the land
And hope that our son understands Where have you gone? So confused out of place
You've made up my mind, so it hurts me to say
That the time I was lying at least to myself
I thought I was somebody else You know I love you, so honey don't go
Too many secrets you never know
But it's already gone, yes it's already gone
Yes it's already gone, hang your head, hold your tongue
'Cause it's nobody's fault but our own Where have you gone? Oh, what have you seen?
'Cause I grew up in places that you've never been
I wish I could say sorry but I'm too out of breath
From singing your songs to my friends You know I love you, so honey don't go
Too many secrets you never know
But it's already gone, yes it's already gone
Yes it's already gone, hang your head, hold your tongue
'Cause it's nobody's fault but our own It's alright, it's alright, it's alright, it's alright
It's okay, it's okay, it's okay, it's okay
It's alright, it's alright, it's alright, it's alright
It's okay, it's okay, it's okay, it's okay
