

Imperfections

Josh Osho

See the signs on my face
Count the scars of my mistakes
Praying I need saving
Second chances came and went
Money made was money spent
Impatient, plain desperation

Though I repent of every sin
Though religions listen in
I feel ashamed that I'm to blame

Found my way in go of troubles untold
The world on my shoulders oh
For all my imperfections I've got you
You're all that stands between me and a fool
I'm a little bit wiser
And a little bit stronger
That's why we shine
