

A Great Day for Freedom

David Gilmour

On the day the wall came down
They threw the locks onto the ground
And with glasses high we raised a cry for freedom had arrived
Out the day the wall came down
The ship of fools had just all aground
Promise up the night like paper doves in flight
I dreamed you had left my side
Nowarint, not even pride remained
And even though you needed me
It was clear that I could not do a thing for you
Now life devalues day by day
As friends and neighbors turn away
And there's a change that, even with regret, cannot be undone
Now frontiers shift like desert sands
While nations wash their bloodied hands
Of loyalty, of history in shades of grey
I woke to the sound of drums
The music played, the morning sun streamed in
I turned and I looked at you
And all but the bitter residue slipped away...slipped away
