Goodbye (Shane Halcon Mix) [feat. Islove]

Glenn Morrison

It's enough, that I know
Our time had a home
In your heart was a place
But the glass always breaks
From the start we were brave
Yet it all seemed amazingNow I
I wanna know
What it took to leave me
Now I
I wanna know
How would you fall
How would youGoodbye and it starts to snow
In the streets of Mexico
Goodbye, I am left alone
In the streets of MexicoEven now as I lay
There's a space you used to take
If I'd have known
What we made
Would be gone like yesterday
I'd have loved
You with grace
I'd have fought the darkness away
All your lies
Showed my way
Now I'm lost between the facesGoodbye and it starts to snow
In the streets of Mexico
Goodbye, I am left alone
In the streets of Mexico
Goodbye and it starts to snow
In the streets of Mexico
Goodbye, I am left alone
In the streets of MexicoGoodbye and it starts to snow
In the streets of Mexico
Goodbye, I am left alone
In the streets of Mexico
Goodbye and it starts to snow
In the streets of Mexico
Goodbye, I am left alone
In the streets of MexicoGoodbye, goodbye

In the streets of Mexico

Songwriters
GLENN MORRISON, JEREMY FRANCIS DOLLEMONT, MATTHEW LANGEPublished by Lyrics Â© Sony/ATV Music Publishing LLC, Universal Music Publishing Group, Warner/Chappell Music, Inc.

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/