Purple Ferdinand

This is what I know
If thoughts are ever real
Being in this time
Loving mine for real
Movements tells me so
Your vision is the same
You showed me another world or two
A real understanding more than truth

Tell me what's in your thoughts
You don't even have to say
I can tell by your looks
And you can read me the same
My mind, your mind, intertwined
My mind, your mind, intertwined

You donâ€™t have to say
They donâ€™t need to know
I feel I see your truth
Can spot your every mood
Unspoken words we know
Your looks tell me the most
And you know that I taught you a thing or two
Then we let ourselves get lost into

Tell me what's in your thoughts
You don't even have to say
I can tell by your looks
And you can read me the same
My mind, your mind, intertwined
My mind, your mind, intertwined

Taking good faith to find our life
Taking the heart to another
You find our minds are both falling in time with time

Tell me what's in your thoughts
You don't even have to say
I can tell by your looks
And you can read me the same

My mind, your mind, intertwined
My mind, your mind, intertwined
Tell me what's in your thoughts
(You don't have to say)
You don't even have to say
I can tell by your looks (I can tell)
And you can read me the same
My mind, your mind, intertwined
My mind, your mind, intertwined
