Falter

Tears To Embers

Constantly wary
My own adversary
Iâ€™m always dragging me down.

So fealty and broken
Iâ€™ve hopelessly chosen
To guide this life on my own

I failed myself
One too many times
Iâ€™ll bury you above the water right now

Still half of a man
I am barely alive
And I canâ€™t afford to falter now
To falter now

The sins that Iâ€™m facing
Relentlessly chasing
Theyâ€™ll never let me escape

Still running in circles
The weight of my world
Christina knows thatâ€™s a statement

Iâ€™ll bring myself of the ground
As we desired
Unveil to stand
And iâ€™ll never believe that I wasted all my chances
Those certain circumstances tell me
I havenâ€™t got much left
But iâ€™ll fight for every breath

And I failed myself
One too many times
Iâ€™ll bury you above the water right now

Still half of a man
I am barely alive
And I canâ€™t afford to falter now

To falter now
To falter now
To falter now

As I fight to breath
To be anything
Other than what iâ€™ve been here

Constantly wary
My own adversary
Iâ€™m always dragging me down.

I failed myself
One too many times
Iâ€™ll bury you above the water right now

Still half of a man
I am barely alive
And I canâ€™t afford to falter now

I failed myself
One too many times
I failed myself
One too many times , too many times
