Hey Sally

Aranda

Hey Sally, whats the matter with you
You went downtown, mess around thinking that you could never lose
But the weight of all your lies left you coldHey Sally whats your next move?
You took a couple wrong turns baby cause you never really had a clue
That the road you're going down, you walk alone
And you'll never know you can turn around
Till someone tells you soYou gotta stand up, when you fall down
Or do you stand for what you know is wrong
Oh Sally, Sally come home tonight
You've been looking round, but you never found
The love you needed for so long
Oh Sally, Sally come home tonightHey Sally, I know just how you feel
You know where you want to go baby but you never want to take the wheel
But you're wasting all your time looking back
And the only way to get there is for you to understandYou gotta stand up, when you fall down
Or do you stand for what you know is wrong
Oh Sally, Sally come home tonight
You've been looking round, but you never found
The love you needed for so long
Oh Sally, Sally come homeI'm not there to tell you pride comes before the fall
But if you don't go, you don't go back, you could lose it all
MMMMM MM MMMMM MMMM...
Hey Sally, you're nobody's fool
And no matter what they say you know I still got faith in you
I still have faith in youYou gotta stand up, when you fall down
Or do you stand for what you know is wrong
Oh Sally, Sally come home tonight
You've been looking round, but you never found
The love you needed for so long
Oh Sally, Sally come home
OOOOOOO , come home tonight
