

Miracle Of The Moment

Steven Curtis Chapman

It's time for letting go
All of our if only's
'Cause we don't have a time machine And even if we did
Would we really want to use it
Would we really want to go change everything 'Cause we are who and where
And what we are for now
And this is the only moment
We can do anything about So breathe it in and breathe it out
And listen to your heartbeat
There's a wonder in the here and now
It's right there in front of you
I don't want you to miss the miracle of the moment There's only one who knows
What's really out there waiting
In all the moments yet to be And all we need to know
Is he's out there waiting
To Him the future's history And He has given us
A treasure called right now
And this is the only moment
We can do anything about So breathe it in and breathe it out
And listen to your heartbeat
There's a wonder in the here and now
It's right there in front of you
I don't want you to miss the miracle of the moment And if it brings you tears
Then taste them as they fall
And let them soften your heart And if it brings you laughter
Then throw your head back
And let it go, let it go, yeah
You gotta let it go
And listen to your heartbeat, yeah Breathe it in and breathe it out
And listen to your heartbeat
There's a wonder in the here and now
It's right there in front of you
I don't want you to miss the miracle of the moment Breathe it in and breathe it out
And listen to your heartbeat
There's a wonder in the here and now
It's right there in front of you
I don't want you to miss the miracle of the moment
