

Silence the Ocean

Lions Among Us

I am sick and tired of everything

Though its been said before many times and many ways

Violence brings violence
And hate breeds hate.

When will we stand as one

And find another way

Stop waiting on the world to change.I'm giving up on selfishness

And picking up the pieces of all the damage left

When will we stand and say enough is enough

When will we finally realize there is nothing greater than our love?

Without a jump, there is no fall.

But without hope we have lost it all

I see no end in sight

If all we ever do is fight

We've got to find a better way

Stop waiting for the world.

Stop waiting on the world to change

I'm giving up on selfishness

And picking up the pieces of all the damage left

So this is where the story stands

Will we stand as one or let it fall right through our hands?

This is me screaming right at you

This is the sound of silence

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnlrics.com/>