

As We Are Now

Saint Raymond

We've all been waitin' for this, but it always comes too quick
Spend our days in the playground pretending not to be kids
The girls are in the corner, already had too much to drink

Boys hide behind their laughter, like they don't care what girls think We'll never be as young as we are now
The faces in the crowd are thinning out

And I'm not saying stick around, but stick around

And we may never have another like today, tomorrow is brand new start away

And we'll never be as young as we are now, as we are now We've all been getting tired, the streets that we've outgrown

Sit indoors for hours

Now king George has lost his throne

Something out there's calling, whisper we go home

Nights that I stayed with you, cause you didn't want to be alone
We'll never be as young as we are now
The faces in the crowd are thinning out

And I'm not saying stick around, but stick around

And we may never have another like today, tomorrow is brand new start away

And we'll never be as young as we are now, as we are now
