

Walrus

D.D Dumbo

the blood seeps out like the wounds of a walrus in salty ice in frost and blubber
the birds the sun the bugs that adore you the endless glorythe duck screams out as it chokes on medicine it's nature mocked then stuffed and murdered the one the other faceless joyless coldthe blood seeps out like the wounds of a walrus
