

Satisfied

Darden Smith

If I could love you like Elvis
Elvis back in '62
Hips on fire, full of desire
It wouldn't be good enough for you And if you could love me like Marilyn
In the garden back in '63
Singing, "Happy Birthday, baby"
It wouldn't be good enough for me 'Cause that stuff ain't really real
No matter how good it feels
It's only skin deep and we are
Way beyond that now Lying with you in the dark
Soul to soul and heart to heart
Baby you and I know
How to be satisfied A raindrop falls on the mountain
Slowly rolling to the sea
And it takes time to know what is love
What's a dream, and the difference
In between That other stuff ain't really real
No matter how good it feels
It's only skin deep and we are
Way beyond that now Lying with you in the dark
Soul to soul and heart to heart
Baby you and I know
How to be satisfied
