

S.O.S.

Trash Talk

I could part the seas if I please
I don't want to show you that I got it like that I don't want to live forever or whenever
But every time I end it I just come right back Same old shit different day
Until somebody changes the game
Same old shit different day
Until somebody changes the game
Same old story life is boring I could shoot the moon if I choose
But I don't really want it to show
If you knew all the things I can do
You'll respect me and expect much more
Same old shit different day
Until somebody changes the game
Same old shit different day
Until somebody changes the game
Same old story life is boring
