

The Motive (Greg Walsh Remix)

Then Jerico

The night comes down and moments go
The rats go by and by
Everyone just turns around
And waits to feel inside

Then down you came with all you know
And captured my desire
Ain't it true, you know I find
That I'm already tied

When there's no getting over
The riches that you gave
And within the light that shines from you
I'll bathe myself, I bathe myself

I've no point living without you
Yes I'm glad I found you
You will be the one alone I know (I know)
You believe in pride
And you're gonna leave aside
Who could be the one to know

Well was there any point in living without your love
Any point in living without your love
I hold on, hold on
And hold on 'til the end

The business will just steal your soul
And that's what I believe
But where there's truth, there's poetry
It happens naturally

Now, I know how it feels to burn
And throw your life away (away)
But I will lose myself in you
And find myself again

When there's no getting over
The riches that you bring
And within the light that shines from you

I'll bathe myself, I'll bathe myself

I've no point living without you
Yes, I'm glad I found you
You will be the one alone I know (I know)
You believe in pride
And you're gonna leave aside
Who could be the one to know

Well, was there any point in living without your love
Any point in living without your love
I hold on and hold on
And hold on 'til the end

No point living without you
Yes, I'm glad I found you
You will be the one alone I know (I know)
You believe in pride
And you're gonna leave aside
Who could be the one to know

Oh

Living without you
Without you
Without you
Without you-oooo

Living without you
Living without you
Living without, without, without, without, without, without, without

The rats go by and by and by and by
