

Breathe

Matt Corby

Speed stretched fallen rain,
Skin lines on the window pane,
It blurs until i'm blind,
Can't see the other side.I took the long way home,
Through novembers undertone.
Sharp eyes sifting through to find,
Moments rare and purified.I didn't know where I was,
Or where I was running to.
I didn't know where I was,
I dont know where I'm running to.
Fear is needless, seize.
Air is fearless, breathe.So far from the oceans thrall,
I was homesick inside city walls.
(Oooh) The seasons were upside down,
I was lost in hope that i won't be found
