Melee

Remember somewhere I'll be found next to you, right next to you I'm stuck in the shadows of a man that I never could be Thinking twice about trusting but losing that someone who cares You killed me by silence but whispered that this feels
Oh, so good, I feel oh, so good
And you're right, where you are is where I ought to be Somewhere behind the scars there's always room for me This broken bracelet is all that I have left from you
And the morning sun came too soon
'Cause what's left is this wall
That is crumbling down in our lives leaving him behind Have I lost my way? Oh baby, say it's not true
That it can hurt so good when I am right next to you Right where you are
