

Sensible

Unwound

I tried to be a sensible girl
Thinking I could talk my way out of your world
Responsibility for real, do you ever think you could deal
With someone like me

Maybe I'm just scared of you
Maybe you would be afraid of me
If you only knew me well enough to see
The trouble I'm in

Are you sure when you say that you love me
With you I can't be so lonely, and I don't want to be untrue
Are you sure when you say that you love me
With you I can't be so lonely, and I don't want to be untrue
And I don't want to be untrue

Nod off to the world to be so charmed
And spending just a little time can't do any harm
Your confidence really caught me off-guard
And it's making this rather hard to resist
Should I take a risk

Maybe I'm just scared it's real
Maybe I'm just too afraid to feel as deep as you
That's the trouble with me
The trouble I'm in

So be sure when you say that you love me
I'm just waiting, I'm not in a hurry, and I just want it to be true
So be sure when you say that you love me
I'm just waiting, I'm not in a hurry, and I just want it to be true

So be sure when you say that you love me
So be sure when you say that you love me, it's true
So be sure when you say that you love me
So be sure when you say that you love me, it's true
It's true
