

The New Breed

Oh, Sleeper

Reclaiming thrones, our generation's pride
Sits a conformist ploy to strip what burns inside
And our bodies yearn to live life endlessly
So now we rise, we rise in mutiny
We make our stand here between the angels and animals
We fear nothing here
Where we can beat any feat set to keep us crawling
We're calling you here to give leave to destruction of fear
And stand tall against all who will dare to shake you
Don't let them shake you, shake you
Stand strong where I could not, please stand strong
Oh please, this plea
Dear God, let it not from my lips be conceived
So grip your fist and swing until your knuckles bleed
If you are the new breed, scream, "I am immortal"
We can't sit quietly 'cause there's more to life than we see
So if you are the new breed, scream, "I am immortal in You"
This is the call of the new breed
I want to feel what change your glory brings
Please teach me life lived fearlessly
And I swear I'll make a stand here
Between the angels and animals and fear nothing
Here, where I can be more than mortal
And fight for a kingdom that answers to no one
But I just can't breathe without you in the air
And I won't so rip out these lungs
And for my heart you can cut it from my chest
Oh God, if that's what You want, for me to feel life endlessly
I'll breathe Your blood for the rest of my life
So grip your fist and swing until your knuckles bleed
If you are the new breed, scream, "I am immortal"
We can't sit quietly 'cause there's more to life than we see
So if you are the new breed, scream, "I am immortal in You"
We'll be death's dealers if that's where You lead
Anchored by glory we rise in mutiny
We are the new breed, we are the new breed
We've come alive and we are moving
